. B. Hudson was arrested, on Fridsy night, for arresty. From the testimony of John Wallace, of Seward.

Mr. Raymond of the N. Y. Times is here working for Mr. Seward, and the Times will sunport best if nominated. John Wentworth's influence is also for Mr. Seward, and he says he om with his coat, vest, watch and chain, the who also slept in the same room, lost a coat, vest and hat worth twenty-nine dollars, and ten dollars in money. The case was continued. Ohio is uncertain. Peausylvania gives no positive assurance, and when Kaw Jerseys treaks

They want's conservative with whom to make a winning fight, or a straight-out radical for a contest of pure principle.

They Magfand is anxious and doubtful. She is puzzled. They hesitate both to desert Mr.
Seward and force kin on the deabtful States.
They are likely to be much cut up. The Massachusetts delegation bare been in a labored conference against, and show an increased disposition to leave Mr. Seward, and go for Mr. Lincoln.

A Propulate Hunary. Night before last, officers Jackson and Ludwig arrested William Robinson and Alice Graham upon a charge preforred against them for disorderly conduct and vagrancy, upon which charge they were at quitted; but from developments which leake out during the examination, another charge was preferred against Robinson for the larceny of a howie knife, upon which he was bound over in bowie knife, upon which he was bound over in $500. It seems from the testimony toat Robinson has been for months past cohabiting with the woman Graham, while his wife and children are almost destitute. He even goes so far at times as to discoun them and turn then from him as though they were utter atrangers to him. He was once before arrested with this same woman, but for some reason he escaped justice. At last he will meet with his deserts.

Curease, Thursday, May 17-11:6 P. x.

My conclusion, from all that I can gather tonight, is that the opposition to Gov. Seward cannot concentrate on any candidate, and that he will be nominated.

The only thing now remaining is the nomuna-ENTERPRISING NEWS DEALERS.—The enterpri ENTERPRISENCE NEWS DEALERS.—The enterpri-sing news dealers, Barnford & Baldwin bought 12,585 copies of the Daily Press and Tringens on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. These papers were distributed and sold chiefly along the lifes of the Michigan Southern, North-Western and Mitwaukee Rail-roads. They ordered several thousand mere The only thing now remaining is the nomina-tion, and that will be effected to morrow, proba-bly, after ten or twelve ballots. It is impossible to predict the result with any certainty, but Mr./ Seward's prospects are just, new decidedly good. His oppowents will find it impossible to unite His opposents will find it impressible to unite on any candidate, and the general impression is that his nomination is simply a matter of neces-aity. The supporters of Mr. Bates have aban-dened the field, and most of them will at once declare for Mr. Seward. roads. They ordered several thousand more copies, but the present were unable to furnish them in time for the starting of the trains. Mr. Bamford resides at Milwaukee, but such a rush of business in his line during Convention week donedthe field, and most of them will at once declare for Mr. Seward.

The only man upon whom there is any hope of uniting is Mr. Lincoln, and very little progress is made in the affort. The prospect is, that when the several States find that they camnot carry their own candidate, they will fall back upon Mr. Seward. To this rule there will back upon Mr. Seward. To this rule there will be exceptions. Part of the Pennsylvania delegation are very bitter in their opposition, and the maturalisation clause in the platform has fused something of the same feeling in the delegates from Massichusetts and Competient.

The tariff clause gives universal satisfaction, and was received with a storm of earthusiam seldom witnessed in any popular gathering.

The Vermont delegation is divided, and for the present more hostile to Mr. Seward than has been anticipated.

THE MESTING SATURDAY NIGHT. - On Saturda night the wigwam was gan a continued to witness the caremony of a flag presentation by John-Wentworth to the Sixth Ward. The gallery contained about niesty per cent. Iadies, who also predominated throughout the whole assemblage. Most prominent among the great stray of speakers were Joshus R. Giddings, General Nye, Ossian E. Dodge and General Switt, of Boston. Daring part of Sen. Nye's address Mr. Giddings was observed to weep, while at others he was convulsed with laughter. The same effect was to a great degree parceptible upon the whole audienes. The affair was quietly gone over and good feeling, and a pleasureable excitement pervedud with both orators and histoners. The meeting lasted till a late hour, when, after repeated hearly cheers, all returned to their homes, satisfied that victory had perched upon the banner under which they are fighting.

night. Sevard may be nominated to merrow. As matters stand such a result is not improbable.

The various delegations still are caucasing. Ohio desided to sight to hive on the first ballot seventeen electoral votes for Chase, four for Lincols, and two for Mean. When Chase is dropped, Lincols will be Ohio's next choice. New Hamphire will divide between Lincols and Chase. Vermont will support Bates or Lincols. Pennsylvania will stand firm for Cameron, and Illinois and Indiana will vote solid for Lincols, and he will have scattering votes from several other States on thefirat ballot, and from present appearances, will gather strength. poservient to the interests of the Propagan ree planning to the truest friends of Republin institutions the nomination of ABBAHAN LINCOLN-Honest old ABE-by the great Republican party, is a guaranty that the country earied and outraged by the malfeasance of those invested with the Federal power, desires a return to the sterling honesty and Dem ocratic simplicity which marked the Adminis trations of Jefferson, Madison, Adams and Jackson. The party has not mistaken the man sell'cted for a standard bearer. Mr. LIN-COLN is the very soul of integrity. In all his life, now extending over 51 years, there is not perruption and extravogance which have made nostrils of the American people, and which ers built, will come to a sudden end.

Mr. Lincoln's record on the slavery ques Anti-Slavery man, against whom no allegetion of fanaticism will hold good. On and a part of the Platform of the party, he will spare no labor to effect a return to the p licy which has marked the rule of the wisest and most pe Constitution and the laws, in the interpreta sand the respect of the North and the South; ever to dissolve the bonds which tie the States of this Union together, it will be met by more than a Roman firmness which never vet rielded to threats or frowns. But we have not the smalle tour that he will be unequal to any emergency ed excepth of intellect which have brought him up from a lowly estate to become the head of a great, and we believe, a triumphan party, will be the anchor on which he and the country may depend. In this regard he is

We refer to one matter with pride and congratulation. Mr. Lincoln has, by his own mition, never been a candidate for President of the United States; hence he has no pledge to redeem, no promises to make good. The uprising in his favor has been spontaneousthe outgrowth of a widespread conviction his fitness and availability. It has not eml arrassed his future action. It has laid no clogupon the free exercise of his judgment in all matters w ich concern the public good. It has not been the work of cliques, or factions, by and by to seek their reward. He goes into the Presidential Chair, clean-handed and and exigescies of the public service, and not by the loud clamms of men who urge their claims upon the ground of past support. That during the past week, in which there have been such temptations to lead him into the wotes which were based upon promises of future rewarfs, we have reason to know. With them all.

To conclude this too brief notice of a gree public ovent, let us eny that the needs of the country are such, and the convictions of the laggert dictive; that notes its operation those growth have become large and important casements for the real productions of our risk case, as yet out cantally productions of our risk case, as yet out cantally establishment of control of the cont people that a change is necessary are so profound, that Mr. Lincoln, were he but an ordinary man, in whose history there was no flow, would be elected. But being all that the exigencies of the times demand, whether estimated as to ability, tact, integrity or faithfulntes to principle, his nomination will be taken up with the zeal and enthusiasm which foreshadow not only success, but majorities unequaled in the political history of the free

OF NEW YORK 2887 CONFERENCE.

There are few men who would more readily be noticed by strangers, than James Floy, D. D. He is a man of singular aspect. His head is nearly cound, his neck short, his shoulders ample, his body tending to corpalency, his complexion like Tom Corwin's, his eyes small, deeply set, and pecularly cold and dead until arouned. He sits with the meek, quiet look of consoions rectlinds and power. He seems in different, but he is simply collected. He seems in different, but he is simply collected. He seems an immorable mountain, calmly resting alone, but a volcano alumbers there, ready to deluge with moliten fire what is corrupt beneath and around. Wo be to the unhappy wight who stempts duplicity or meanness near that man. He can see out from under those overhanging brows, through and through the intricacles of strategy, the srtifices of polemics. He is the arbiter of things in his own Conference, and is exteemed most by those who know him best. In 1826 James Floy was persecuted in his Conference, was even suspended, because he was an anti-lavery man. He has lived to see his ensure septiered, and himself on the high road before the aurisia arrayed in his elaborate costume of an Egyptian priesis, and nead from a piece of paper it w more to the effect that Gusini was substanced by Junca. This change because the value of that place on Sunday last, from the Arkanassa mines as Sunday last, from the Arkanassa mines as Sunday last, from the Arkanassa of several miles of the series of new gold discoveries, that has well night turned to that place on Sunday last, from the Arkanassa of the series of new gold discoveries, that has well night turned to that place on Sunday last, from the Arkanassa of new gold discoveries, that has well night turned to that place on Sunday last, from the Arkanassa of new gold discoveries, that has a pale of the well of the well of the gold in the gold in the graph of the gold in the first of the present of the first of esteemen most of those was close and the conference, was even surpended, because he was an anti-alwery man. He has lived to see his ensities systemed, and himself on the high road to the highest honors and psefulness. He fired down opposition,—fought through all the bat-

They were read yesterday, and the impres-sion was profound, the scene subtime. Dr. Kingsley brought in his report in behalf of the asjority about 10 o'clock. Business was sus-pended to hear the reports of the msjority and minority of the anti-slavery committee. Dr. Kingsley escended the platform and read his report in a subdeed voice, and byeathless si-entire responsibility of an exciting debate.— The majority are willing to vote, anxious to vote without any farther excitement. The minority raise the excitement, do the mischief, minority raise ine excitement, do the muchief, divide the church, set up new churches, and then charge the whole mischief on the majority. So it is in the matura and in the church. They are like the crazy girl who stole into the closest and tore a fine allk dress into ribbons. Her sister found her just cowardly desertion of public work. We do like pluck in Boston town, and Everett has none. His faint fercement even in gone. We like the slequence of power, and Everett has only the eloquence of art. Of course people run to hear him speak his pieces, for he speaks a piece as this dress all to pieces, but if there is any fuss about it you will make it." Now they are testis no man behind the voice. He weight just nothing in a real conflict. Speaking of dead men, I am reminded of Edward G. Parker's resurrection of Choate's conncience on the subject of slavery. It is in his Reminiscences of Rufus Choate, p. 290, and was uttered by Mr. Choate in a conversation on ing, we are of course making all the noise. To was utiered by Mr. Choate in a conversation on the nomination of Fremont and the alm of the Republican movement. Mr. Choate said; "I have never yet, however, seen the good argu-ment that slavery wasn't better for the blacks than freedom, as regards merely their sensa-tions—the gratification of their merely sensual wants. But slavery makes their whole moral and intellectual character a wrek; and if they are women, they are damned." No wonder

DDRESS TO THE CHARLESTON

The address to the Charleston seceders is published in the Constitution of this morning, and embodies the views contained in Benning's letter which I sent you last night. It is signed by R. W. Johnson, A. Iverson, John Bidell, Jeff. Davis, L. Q. C. Lamer, Martin Crawford, Peter E. Love, John Jones, James Jackson, John W. Underwood, M. H. Garnett, R. Toombo, W. K. Sebastiau, R. M. T. Hunter, J. M. Maon, J. P. Beojamin, Lucius J. Gartsell, John R. Rerigan, John R. Morrison. After recting the fact that the majority platform was adopted by the majority of states comprising all those likely to vote for the Democratic candidate, and pointing out but that for the unfair operation of the unit rule, it would have been adopted, the address goes on to sustain the action of the secedera, and to point out the mode of yet rectoring the harmony of the party. It assumes that a disposition has been evinced since the withdrawal of the acceders to adopt a satisfactory platform and thus secure the united action of the party. The address then proceeds as follows:

"It is plain that if the Convention shall at Baltimore adopt a satisfactory platform of principles, hefers proceedings to elect its candidate. dairy maids will wall, "It silled its thousands and they their tens of thousands." It is conceeded that the disease is very contagious, that an exposed usemal must die, and that the contagion can be checked only by killing all that have beer exposed. line of coaduct we suggest leads in our judgment to a reconciliation of differences on the basis of principle. It leads to united and har monious achien on our party; it does more, infinitely more: It secures vanily a ded strength to that assertion of principles which none of we for an instant thinks of compromising. It compels their recognition and proudly vindicutes the action of the seeding delegations who thus will have secured the object of their struggle, and have merrited the applause and gratitude of their Demooratic brethren. The contrary course would, we believe, he productive of mischievaus consequences. Time does not permit the action of the regular organizations of our party in respective States, and who could have no power to speak their will to meet in council and give instructions to their delegations. How is the voice of California or of Oregon to be heard in time? How are the constituencies of Texas and Virginia to meet in State Conventions, and give authoritative expression of their will before the middle of Jane?
How can the machinery be put in motion by which the Democratic voters will direct strend with their judgment before the middle of Jane?

How can the machinery be put in motion by then by the delegation of see ding States to re turn to Baltimore, a refusal to defer the Richmond meeting until there shall be an uncontrolable necessity for holding it, would inevitably result in the incurable division of our party, the sole conservative organization remaining in our country; in its final disruption; worse than all, in the endangering of the successful assertion of its principles, compared with

In the last act various startling phenomena took place. As the waves of the Red Sea parted at the command of Moses, an individual dressed in black, and looking very much like a New Yorker of the present age was seen very unconcernedly strolling about the bottom of the sea.

This remarkable aquatic "What is it?" however, appeared to be started at the laughter of the sudience, and ran away in a state of great apparent perturbation.

"The feast of reason and flow of soul" being thus auspiciously commenced, the fun grew "furious fast," lively repartee, mirth provoking stories, and stirring remisiscences beganied the hours. Messra, Watrons, Sargent, Cheeseman, Macdonald, Stapies, Bell and flinkley of the California delegation made telling speeches, and set the "table in a roar" by their sparkling wit. Mr. Cheeseman in his remarks made frequent aliasions to the wires and daughters of California; and as the company rose and tosated every time an allusions was made in the remotest manner to the fair sex, there was a lively getting up and down during his speech. Messra. Haven, kliis, Wills and kanchester, responded eloquently on the part of the returned Californians, and by their stirring speeches did much to highten the interest of the entertainment.

During the evening the memory of the gallant Broderick was proposed by the Chairman; immediately boisterous mirth was flushed, the tear started on cheeks a moment before wreathed in amilies; the whole company arise, and in silence, standing, touched their glasses to the memory of California's soblest son. At the conclusion of the reading the President handed to him the copy of the address, and took each of them cordially by the hand seriatim. A brief reply was next made on their behalf by the right hand Ambassador through their loterpreter and Mr. Portman, and again all, including the President, howed low. The Cabinet were then one by one introduced to the Embassdors. The President, through an interpreter; previously announcing the official position of each as he was presented to them. Lical General Scott was next in turn introduced to them, and then Speaker Pennington, similar explanations as to their rank and position being made. Then four of the Embassy's chief officers entered, bowing low twice as they advanced and took positions behind their Chiefa, the President bowing to them in return. They did not however offer to shake his hand, their eliquets not allowing say but heir chief officials to participate in that familiarity with so high a functionary as the chief ruler of a great nation. Here the ceremony ended. The Embassy and and their attendants retring from the apartment, walking backwards while in the President's presence and bowing low as before. Wind Wagons.

Some time ago we mentioned that Mr. Andy Dawson, of the allowin, was constructing a wind wagon, in which he intended to go to Pike's Peak. Since that time the mashine has been fluished, and realized the most sangulure expectations of the projector—carrying him through in twenty days. Encouraged by this success, other parties in the same town set about the construction of the same kind of wagons, and on Monday a party of eight startedoud on the prairies to try one which had just been finished. The wind was blowing a gale at the time, and everything worked to a charm. The occupants, gliding swiftly over the prairies, were delighting themselves with anticipations of a speedy and comfortable trip to the mirres, when the velocity of the vehicle created allively alarm for their safety. The wagon sped onward before the driving wind, faster and faster yet, until the axiletrees broke and deposited them all upon the ground, and in a somewhat dumaged condition from broken heads, bruised limbs and bodies. The speed of the mashine is said to have been forty rules are here. BRILLIANT NOVEL

In half a finute after the opening of the doors the Embassy gravely, noiselessly and slowly approached the position of the President and Cabinet, every one present being breathlessly still. They stopped twice in their apparoach, bowing low each time, and the President each time himself bowing simultaneously to them. On reaching his position the Embassdor on the right hand read in Japanese as appropriate address, to which the President neatly responded. At the conclusion of the reading the President kanded to him the copy of the address, and took each of them cordially by the hand seria-
